FRENCH MAKE 2 MILE PENETRATION ON THE OISE-AISNE TEN MILE FRONT

ADVANCE CONTINUING SATISFACTORY AND
THREATENS ENTIRE HUN LINE ALONG
THE AISNE EASTWARD

MORE THAN 500 PRISONERS TAKEN TODAY'S CASUALTIES

London, Aug. 20, 1.30 p. m.—French troops attacking on a ten mile front this morning between the Oise and the Aisne had advanced to a maximum of two miles at nine o'clock, according to dispatches received here this afternoon. The attack is continuing satisfactorily, it is learned, and the French advance now endangers the whole of the German line along the Aisne from Soissons eastward.

It will cause no surprise if the Germans soon withdraw to the Chemin des Dames. More than 500 additional prisoners have been taken in this new attack. At the same time the French are striking north of the Oise. They have reached the outskirts of Thiescourt (2 miles southeast of Lassigny and 5 miles southwest of Noyon.) They have also captured Bracquemont and Sendu wood and most of the village of Deuvrax.

Paris, Aug. 20, 10.10 a. m.—The French continued to extend and consolidate their gains on both sides of Noyon. They have penetrated further toward Roye and Lassigny and the latter town on the north has virtually been occupied. The Germans have started a fearful barrage while the French are shelling Noyon from two directions. The French are about 9,000 yards or 5 miles from that town on the south. General Mangin's artillery is sweeping all the territory except the narrow outlet toward Guisard, 5 miles north of Noyon.

Two French armies striking simultaneously on a wide front between the Oise and the Aisne and north of the Oise today made extensive gains. General Mangin's troops drove a deep wedge into the enemy front, taking hundreds of prisoners and threatening to out-flank the German position on the southern end of the Picardy end and on the western edge of the Soissons-Rheims line.

The enemy has been forced to withdraw his heavy artillery beyond Noyon according to the Hour, a leading Paris newspaper, this afternoon. His positions in the Noyon region on the Oise front are expected to fall. The French have taken the heights commanding the Aisne and the Oise valleys.

That Germany is apparently facing a serious man power situation on the western front is evidenced by the demands upon Emperor Karl for heavy Austrian forces. Dispatches from Zurich today stated that current rumors in Vienna declared that Emperor Karl had refused the German demands.

From other sources considered reliable it was learned in Washington today that the visit of Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria in Germany is an enforced one. Ferdinand, it is stated, is virtually held a hostage by the Germans due to fears that Bulgaria intends to quit the Teutonic alliance if opportunity offers. Reports that Ferdinand attempted to negotiate with the Allied leaders caused his summons to Berlin and the subsequent announcement that he would remain indefinitely in Germany for "a rest". It is considered significant that Ferdinand was not in attendance at the recent council of the Kaiser's.

Paris, Aug. 20.—French troops advanced further between the Oise and the Aisne last night, capturing the village of Vassins, the War Office announced today. In the Lassigny region there was artillery fighting, the communique said. Northwest of Morsaint the French occupied Vassins. West of Maison, in the Champagne, a German raid was successful.

London, Aug. 20.—Japanese troops have landed at Nikolisk to protect the citizens, according to official dispatches received today. Nikolisk is situated near the mouth of the Amur river, 750 miles north of Vladivostok.

AMERICAN STEAMER RAMMED AND MOST PROBABLY SUNK GERMAN SUBMARINE

Washington Aug. 2.—A German submarine was rammed and probably sunk by an American steamer at 9.30 p. m. August 17, near Winter Quarters Shoals off the Virginia coast the Navy Department announced today. The captain stated that the submarine was smashed on the port bow bringing her along side the vessel. The captain is of the opinion that the U-boat was so badly damaged that she sank. The Navy Department was not advised as to whether the ramming was intentional or accidental.

LET US DO LIKEWISE

During the week of August 26th the National Fraternal Congress of America and the National Fraternal Press Association will be held in Philadelphia. At the stroke of the Liberty Bell, the Star Spangled Banner will be sung at the close of a patriotic convocation in Independence Square be the assembled hosts. Philadelphia fraternalists are planning to make the affair nation wide and have its message carried round the world. They seek to have fraternal organizations in every city in the nation follow their example by meeting on the same night in their respective towns and cities, having one short patriotic address, sing a number of patriotic songs and wind up by singing in unison "The Star Spangled Banner".

The idea is wonderful—it is tremendous. It is in accord with the highest ideals of Fraternalism and Patriotism.

Why can not the fraternal organizations of Clearfield meet, say in Witmer Park, next Tuesday night and follow out this idea? There need be no organization, no parade or regalia, unless lodges desire to do so as a unit. We know that Professor Thayer and the Liberty Chorus will take the lead if the different fraternal organizations of town desire to do this thing. Talk about it in your meetings this week and let us know what your members think of the idea.

A NARROW ESCAPE

A Fourth Ward child had a very narrow escape last evening. When sitting on the floor the child was seen to pitch forward and lay writhing on the floor. Her face turned blue from choking and while the child was getting some air it was not enough to sustain life very long. Doctor J. M. Quigley was summoned who, grasping the child by its heels, with a dexterous shake, dislodged a full sized baker's loaf of bread from the child's throat. The little one had found it between the cracks in the flooring and as the pronograph was playing at the time no one noticed her trying to masticate it.

DENTON—SHEESER

Leo Denton and Miss Marie Sheeser both of Union township were united in marriage at St. Francis church on Friday, August 16, 1918 by Rev. Father M. A. Ryan. The groom, a former Glen Richey boy, is in the service of Uncle Sam and is home on furlough while his bride is a charming and accomplished young lady and a member of one of Union township's most respected families.

BOARDS ANNOUNCE HOLDING PLACES OF REGISTRATION

Washington, Aug. 19 — Provost Marshal General Crowder today estimated that 150,011 men who have reached the age of 21 years since June 5 1918 will register on August 24. Of these it is believed that 50 per cent, or approximately 75,000 men will be available for Class 1. The estimate by states gives Pennsylvania 13,533.

All three of the Selective Service Boards of the county have completed arrangements for the registration of young men who have become 21 years of age since last June 5th or who will reach the age of 21 on or before registration day, August 24th.

These men in District No. 1 will register at their nearest point to Clearfield or Winburne, these two points being easy of access to the men of District No. 1.

Men of District No. 2 will register at DuBois, Mahaffey, Grampian and Tyler.

The men of District No. 3 will register at Houtzdale, Osceola and Coalport.

Do not forget the date August 24th and remember that a heavy penalty is provided for those who neglect to comply with the law.

The Local Selective Service board has everything in readiness for the registration on August 24th next of all those young men who have reached the age of 21 years since June 5th last.

During the twelve months from June 5, 1917, to June 5, 1918, a total of 259 young men became of age in District No. 1 and if the same ratio maintains throughout the past three months there will be not more than sixty, or sixty-five at the outside, to register on Saturday a week.

On account of the small number of registrants expected the board has arranged for but two places of registration, Selective Service headquarters in Clearfield and at Winburne. These two places will accommodate the heavy centres of population in the district and the occasional registrants from other sections may make out their certificates and mail them in.

HUNDREDS KILLED IN PETROGRAD IN BIG FOOD RIOTS

Amsterdam, Aug. 20—Hundreds of persons have been killed and wounded in a terrible food riot which is under way in Petrograd according to dispatches received from Berlin today. Workers who have been without bread for two days shouted "away with Germany." They encountered a detachment of Lettish guards and Smolny Institute leaders and a battle ensued in which hundreds of persons were killed and injured on both sides. Martial law has been proclaimed.

Professor H. Clark Thayer head of the Susquehanna College of Music has returned from a much needed vacation. His fall term opens September 2nd.

SIDEWALK BICYCLE RIDING IS ORDERED STOPPED BY POLICE

The regular meeting of council at the borough building last evening was presided over by President Pletcher and attended by nine of the twelve members.

On account of war conditions and scarcity of labor there was not much business on hands for disposition. The Highway department recommended a number of repairs necessary before bad weather sets in and Street Commissioner Graham was directed to treble his street force if he could get the men.

Mayor Chase's report for July which was read at this meeting showed 39 arrests during the month; $130 collected in fines and $19 in licenses, or a total of $149 turned into the borough treasury for the month.

Mrs. Fred Preston was present and complained regarding sanitary conditions in her neighborhood and asked to have the alley alongside of her premises on West Fifth avenue repaired and put in shape for use.

W. B. Breth was present and complained regarding the running of small express wagons on the sidewalk along Turpike avenue. He said it was not only a nuisance but a menace to life and limb. The police were directed to break up the practice under the provisions of the ordinance governing such cases.

Complaint was made regarding the grade of the new sidewalk on the Locust street side of the Driggs theatre property on the removal of the bow window on the residence discussed and action on same postponed until next meeting, when the Highway department will report on the sidewalk grade.

Mayor Chase stated that a flag raising was being scheduled for Clearfield and it had been suggested that the pole be erected in the center of the "diamond" where the iron traffic cop now stands. After some discussion Council went on record as being heartily in favor of the flag raising but opposed to placing any possible obstruction to traffic in the street, suggesting at the same time that the flag be placed on the court house tower or in front of the court house. The mayor stated the matter of location would be in the hands of a committee appointed for that purpose at Thursday night's meeting.

Application for increase of salary was made by the policemen and the same was referred to the Finance committee for report at next meeting. The matter of the establishment of the proper sidewalk line on West Third avenue was referred to the Highway department. Also the question of having the sidewalks on Third street above Margaretta, raised to the established grade.

There being no further business council adjourned to meet Monday evening, September 2d, at 8 o'clock.

THE FRENCHVILLE PICNIC

The Frenchville Picnic tomorrow will be attended by the usual large crowd of Clearfield people. This will be the fortieth annual picnic at Frenchville and if today's weather is any criterion another picnic without rain will be added to the credit of the French as weather pickers, as during the intervening thirty-nine years they have never had rain enough to spoil one of their picnics.

MEN WHO REGISTERED JUNE 5 CAN DO DOUBLE SERVICE BY GOING NOW

Twenty-four young men of District No. 1 of the registration of 1917 were engaged in farm work, and under the provisions for securing the maximum production from the farms of the country they were held back from enrollment under General Crowder's telegram B-30 which provided that men actually engaged in farming when their order number was reached were to be passed over until the crops were harvested and stored. The increased demand for men exhausted Class 1 of 1917 earlier than had been anticipated and before these men had completed their farm work.

These men never asked for deferred classification but agreed to remain at work until the pressing need for them was ended.

Every one of these men is working on a farm which put out additional crops and are endeavoring to help out in the production of food for the Nation's needs. They are in no sense slackers, and stand ready and willing to answer their call.

These men are sorely needed on the farm for another month at least. The only way in which they can be saved to the farm for that length of time is for an equal number of men from Class 1 of the 1918 registration to come forward and volunteer under the call for next week which requires 20 men to be entrained from District No. 1.

The men of Class 1 of the 1918 registration will receive a call in a few weeks at most, many of them have expressed a desire for immediate induction into the service. The Local Board has permission from the Adjutant General's office to accept sufficient volunteers from the 1918 registrants to fill this call.

Men of the 1918 class, can, therefore, at one and the same time do a double service to their country, first in answering their call, and second by anticipating the call a few weeks in order to leave these badly needed men at home. In other words, it will mean practically trading places with these men until their crops are taken care of.

Men who wish to be considered on this Call should notify their Board at once. These men on this call will go to Camp Lee, and on the 30th there will be 7 more to go to Camp Greene.

LIVE LIKE A MISER WORK LIKE A HORSE AND WIN THE WAR

By HERBERT QUICK.

It has become a common saying that democracy is inefficient. We have often read that it takes a despotism to do things.

The Germans believed that they could win this war and conquer the world for two reasons: first, because, in spite of some things which look democratic, the German empire is a despotism; and, second, because it is the first despotism in the history of the world which has reached a very high point in general physical and mental development. They and many people in the democratic countries believed that they could win against the democracies of the world.

Democracy, they said, would be the anvil; despotism the hammer. Democracy would be the whole; despotism would be the swordfish. Democracy would be the target; despotism the gun.

Democracy would be the deer; despotism the wolf. Democracy the huge, unwieldy grazing animal; despotism the fish eater with fangs and claws.

Surprises for Despotism.

The splendid resistance of Belgium and France, the magnificent rallying of Great Britain to the trumpet call, and the intrepid decision of Italy to join in resistance to the German attack, were the greatest surprises which up to that time had ever been encountered by a despot. Before the war had been going on for six months some of the wisest of the cold and crumbly minds of Germany began to wonder whether after all the democracies of the world were not too strong to be overcome.

And then came the biggest surprise of the war. The greatest democracy of the world—the United States—slowly began to realize that the whole cause of freedom for the common man, not only in Europe and in Asia, but here in America, was at stake in the war. Slowly the idea began to penetrate the American mind that the machinations of Germany constituted a greater peril to this country than did the issue fought out in the American revolution or the desecration of our own war between the states.

America saw at last that if Germany wins this war democracy will have failed; not only the democracy of European countries, but the democracy of the world. There would be nothing left for us through all the future but a losing fight against the most cruel and efficient despotism of all time.

And finally, in spite of our own peaceful history, in spite of our own love of peace, in spite of German lies and German propaganda, and the damnable plots of German spies, the United States acted.

The nation reached slowly for the sword, drew it, and plunged with all her mighty power into this dreadful fray.

And so, on some of the bloodiest battlefields that ever desolated the soil of any country, our splendid American soldiers are bearing the Stars and Stripes to victory.

DEMOCRACY IS PROVING A SELF EFFICIENT.

They carry the Stars and Stripes to victory alongside the flags of Great Britain, France, Italy and a score of other nations, because they know that they are fighting the old battle of right against wrong, of democracy against despotism, and that if they lose, the whole history of the United States becomes at once as if it never had been.

Democracy is Proving Efficient.

That is the thing which must strike terror to the hearts of the poisoners, violators and baby killers of Berlin.

We have met and vanquished the submarine. We are now placing in the field in Europe our second million of men, and back of that second million there is a third million, a fourth million, a fifth million and still other millions of men.

We have shown ourselves efficient in production. We have more than made good our promise to send food to our allies. We have organized our industries for war.

We have firmly resolved that having drawn the sword we will throw away the scabbard and never sheath that sword except in victory.

Victory a Matter of Money.

But this war is a progressive thing. It cannot be won through things we have done, but must be carried on to victory through things which we must do in the future. On one side we see that splendid host of young men carrying our banners in the battlefields of France and Flanders. On the other side we must remember that war, and this war more than any other war which was ever waged, is a matter of food, of shelter, of clothing, of munitions, of weapons, of roads, of engines, of cars, of ships, of hospitals, of medicines, and of everything which gives to our boys in the field that magnificent dash, and vim, and power which has struck the German soldiers with dismay.

In other words, winning this war is a matter of money.

It is a matter of money not only for the treasury of the United States, but for all our allies.

When you buy a Liberty bond or a War Savings stamp it means money for the United States treasury.

When you pay your income taxes or any of your other contributions to the government it means money for the United States treasury.

But money is only a representative of value and a medium of exchange. Do not look upon your dollar as a mere piece of currency. Do not look upon the United States treasury as a mere repository of your funds.

Our Treasury Upholding World.

The United States treasury today is the god atlas who holds the world upon his shoulders.

It furnishes money to every one of our allies which needs money. It breathes hope and confidence into every allied army which is losing heart. It puts in the field the artillery which answers the German gun with alike shot. It keeps our armies going forward instead of backward. It holds the line against the German onslaught.

During the coming year this nation must raise $24,000,000,000. The Liberty bonds. It is about time to begin calling them Victory bonds. Whatever we call them, however, $24,000,000,000 during the next year the United States government must have to carry out our great, magnificent and world-saving program! About $16,000,000,000 of this must be raised by loans, and $8,000,000,000 by taxation.

If we do not raise this money the United States treasury will have failed, and when the United States treasury fails the war is lost. If the war

"WELL"

The word "well" is probably the most abused word in the English language. Besides being used as a verb, an adverb, a noun and an adjective, there are many who persist in prefacing their every remark with the word "well". It is a word roundly cursed by court stenographers and printers. Recently we noticed a long drawn out case in which the principal witness who was on the stand for hours prefaced every reply with "well". Well we were disgusted.

RIDING ON SIDEWALKS

The police should have the support of every parent in carrying out the orders of council to prohibit the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks. This practice is a danger to every small child in the city and the source of constant worry to mothers living along a level street. It should be broken up without delay and never again be permitted. Those who see it done will be conferring a favor on their neighbors by calling the police immediately.

GET READY FOR SCHOOL

The Clearfield School Board has given notice that the borough schools will open on September 2nd and have had an advertisement to that effect printed. They make an urgent plea that all pupils entering the schools this winter be vaccinated at once so that their opening days of school will not be interrupted with sore arms or illness. This is a wise suggestion and every pupil should be vaccinated at once so that they will have the benefit of the full term and, especially, of starting right.

ELECT REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN

The prevalent thought that is agitating the wisest Republican minds in the country today is the importance of electing Republican nominees to Congress at the November election. Republican National Chairman Hays is exercising his energies in the movement throughout the country, and State Leader Penrose for some time past has exerted his efforts in the same direction, therefore, it is with practical official approval that enables this journal to help in propagating such patriotic propaganda. Up to the present time it is a matter of public record that Republicans in the Congress have energetically supported every war measure of the present administration, and less than this would not be expected were Republicans in a majority in the House of Representatives. Argument to the contrary is mere fol-de-rol and should be considered accordingly. The welfare of this country could not be more dear to Democratic Congressmen than it is to present Republican nominees for that office, for the reason that patriotism is something more than party faith or factional affiliation. A man must first be an American before he could qualify as a Republican, hence it is of national importance that the Republican party should be fully organized, and the first move in this direction would be to follow the advice of Chairman Hays and elect Republicans to Congress. No one knows at this time what the aftermath of the present world war will develop. It would be only wise to begin now to prepare for eventualities.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—After the new revenue bill comes into effect every person who steps up to the soda fountain and orders a glass of "fizz" will be helping Uncle Sam to keep his coffers filled with the money necessary to carry on the war. The tax of from 1 to 2 cents on all soda fountain drinks, which has been written into the $8,000,000,000 revenue bill by the House ways and means committee, is expected to add many millions of dollars to the Nation's yearly income.

In no other country of the world would a tax on soda water yield such a vast amount, for in no country except the United States does the soft drink habit prevail to the extent it does here. And even in his country it is only in the past decade or two that the soda water industry has reached large proportions. The older generation of today can easily remember the time when the soda fountain was an almost insignificant adjunct to the drug store. But with the introduction of ice-cream soda and a wide variety of mixed drinks the habit of soda drinking took a firm hold on the American people. Today the soft drink emporiums are among the most flourishing establishments to be found in every city and town throughout the land.

Although the soft drink habit is confined almost wholly to the people of America, it was an Englishman, Dr. Joseph Priestly of Leeds, who made the first drinkable glass of soda water. This was as long ago as 1767. Dr. Priestly prepared the draught by pouring water briskly back and forth between two goblets "held in a layer of carbon dioxide on the top of a fermenting mash in a brewer's vat."

An establishment for the sale of mineral waters was opened in New Haven in 1808 by Professor Silliman and at about the same time New York was provided with its first establishment for the sale of soft drinks.

ALLONE, ALL ALONE THEY HAVE LEFT HIM

Leo Allone is alone again through no fault of his own however. Yesterday morning Ex-Judge Allison O. Smith filed an application for divorce on behalf of Leo who seeks to be alone once more rather than live with his wife Josephine Allone. From the facts stated in the application, it appears that while the woman alone could not make trouble for Allone she was not alone in the particular instances complained of but had the assistance of one Joe Allone and this alone was responsible for Leo Allone wanting to go it alone.

Joe Allone has left the county, moving up into "Camberry" county, but that does not appease the wrath of Leo Allone who prefers to live alone even though the other Allone has also left Mrs. Allone alone at Coalport.

Packers' Profits Are Regulated

The public should understand that the profits of the packers have been limited by the Food Administration since November 1, 1917. For this purpose, the business of Swift & Company is now divided into three classes:

Class 1 includes such products as beef, pork, mutton, oleomargarine and others that are essentially animal products. Profits are limited to 9 per cent of the capital employed in these departments, (including surplus and borrowed money), or not to exceed two and a half cents on each dollar of sales.

Class 2 includes the soap, glue, fertilizer, and other departments more or less associated with the meat business. Many of these departments are in competition with outside businesses whose profits are not limited. Profits in this class are restricted to 15 per cent of the capital employed.

Class 3 includes outside investments, such as those in stock yards, and the operation of packing plants in foreign countries. Profits in this class are not limited.

Total profits for all departments together in 1918 will probably be between three and four per cent on an increased volume of sales.

The restrictions absolutely guarantee a reasonable relation between live stock prices and wholesale meat prices, because the packer's profit can not possibly average more than a fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Since the profits on meat (Class 1) are running only about 2 cents on each dollar of sales, we have to depend on the profits from soap, glue, fertilizer (Class 2, also limited) and other departments (Class 3) to obtain reasonable earnings on capital.

Swift & Company is conducting its business so as to come within these limitations.

KILLS BIG SNAKE AT GOSHEN CLUB HOUSE

A four foot rattler, with a sectional alarm measuring three inches in length and containing eleven alarm bells was killed by Walter Camper at the club house of the Goshen Road and Gun club on the old Spence place at the foot of the mountains Sunday afternoon.

His snakeship from its size and venerable looks appeared to be the daddy of all the rattlers in Goshen township met his death at the hands of the former Virginia mountaineer and moonshiner under the back porch at the Club house.

The old fellow had his loafing place conveniently near the outside entrance to the cellar door and as "a dog" was tied in the cellar and a great many visitors had been down to see him during the day the snake was pretty busy sounding his alarm which he did every time any one approached his resting place. In going into the cellar every fellow dodged by within two feet of the diamond-backed death dealer.

Camper discovered the reptile about 4 o'clock as he was returning from the cellar. When he saw the snake coiled within two feet of his nose he wasn't exactly sure of himself, but adjusting his glasses looked long and carefully at the "animale" without convincing himself absolutely that it was there and in the flesh. He was undecided as to his procedure in the matter and didn't want to sound the alarm if there was really no snake there. After getting out into the air an looking all about and around the house and not seeing that snake or any other anywhere else, he mustered up courage enough to tell his friend Jack Wise confidentially what he thought he saw. Jack's nerve was quite steady and being also "from Vahnyah sah!" he reckoned he could tell a rattler if he saw it and together they approached the spot. One look was enough and when Jack said a "rattlah, suah enuff" Camper raised a leg and with one blow crushed the head of the serpent.

The monster was skinned and the slayer will have a belt made from the hide as a trophy of the hunt. He was also much relieved when he discovered it was a real snake.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Mrs. Calvin Bilger and son of Bloom township spent Sunday with Harry Bilger and wife on Pine street.

Mrs. Benjamin Brenstein, of Pittsburgh, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Robinson.

Mrs. Martha Broome returned home yesterday after spending several days at Clearfield with her sister, Mrs. Geo. W. Gray.

A diphtheria sign was posted on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Edmonston North Walnut street, yesterday forenoon.

Morris Kephart, wife and family, motored to Curwensville yesterday from Johnstown for a stay of a day or so with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller are contemplating a trip soon to visit their son, Russell, who is located at Camp Meade.

Wm. Hipps left for Bradford yesterday evening. He represents Curwensville lodge K. of P. at the grand lodge sessions which open in that city today.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson who have been visiting with relatives and friends in the eastern part of the state for the past two weeks or more, returned to their home on Friday evening.

Miss Lou Holden and Miss Ruth LaPorte were Clearfield visitors last Saturday and during their stay at the county seat did some shopping as well as calling on old friends.

Mr. Hess and wife who went on a vacation trip last week have had bad luck. Mr. Hess was taken ill and was forced to enter a hospital where he has been operated on for appendicitis. Mr. Hess is the blue print man at the Bickford office.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Maurer, accompanied by Mrs. Georgia Passmore, a sister of Mrs. Maurer, started Sunday for Clymer in the auto. Somewhere along the route a spring in the machine broke, which detained the home coming until Monday.

The members of Curwensville Liberty Chorus did themselves proud at Bloomington Sunday afternoon. They were highly commended for the music rendered, and Glen Richey and Bloomington, people certainly appreciated their selections as rendered.

Mr. Hoover, father of Harry Hoover, an employee of the bank, is visiting with his son this week. He is a veteran of the civil war, having served with Co. K, old Bucktails. He and John H. Norris had the distinction of having been the two tallest soldiers of old Company K.

Frank Mullen received a letter from his son, Russell Mullen, who enlisted in a cavalry regiment about two years ago, and for some time stationed on the border, stating that he is now in Washington, D. C., and has attained the position of drill sergeant over three companies.

A new bridge is being put in at the foot of hog back hill near Ferncliff. A passageway has been made so that travel will not be impeded. It is a little unhandy for autoists but with careful driving they can get around the obstruction without damage. The old bridge was so damaged by one of the recent rises of water in the run as to make it unsafe for any kind of a vehicle.

Dr. Lave and wife visited with relatives in town over Sunday. The doctor is a first lieutenant and is attached to the examining board at Camp Lee, Virginia. The doctor and his wife were accompanied by Dr. Hurd, a prominent physician of Galeton, Pa. he being also the president of the National bank of his home town. Both gentlemen gave it as their opinion that they had never visited a prettier town or met more social people than during their visit here.

Saturday was pay day at most of the industries of this place, and in consequence merchants were made happy by being recompensed for the large amount of goods sold and delivered to the workmen. As one merchant stated "there is more money paid out in Curwensville for labor, etc., than in any other town of its size in the state." Crowds of people were on the streets until a late hour, but there was never an occurrence to mar the peace and happiness of pedestrians.

Ed Benson informed us yesterday that his brother-in-law First Lieut. William Castleberry, is now located in Washington in the Quartermasters Department, and that he has charge of all the bakery shops in the different camps. Mrs. Castleberry is working with the Red Cross society in that city. Mr. Castleberry is quite well known to Curwensville people, he having been a clerk in the Hoarings Run stone company's office here for several years, going west and locating in Portland, Oregon, later, from which place he entered the army. He served two terms before in the regular army, part of which service was over in the Philippine Islands.

The fourth public flag raising in Curwensville occurred at Naulton, in the Patton Addition, on Friday evening. The newly-organized Curwensville Liberty Chorus gave the opening selection and rendered several other selections during the exercises. As the Crescent band played, John H. Norris, an original member of the First Bucktails, slowly raised the flag to the top of a magnificent pole, more than sixty feet from the ground, and painted alternately in bands of red, white and blue. As the flag neared the top of the pole and the folds released, a beautiful white dove, representing universal peace, fluttered forth and flew straight westward, an omen that our boys over there will soon be in Berlin, and numerous small American flags fell to the ground.

Prayer was offered by Rev. J. Max Lantz, of the Curwensville Methodist church, the chairman of the meeting. John A. Dale, made a few introductory remarks, and Rev. J. H. Cooke gave a reading on "The Flag". Roland D. Swopes, Esq., then delivered the oration which was one of the best heard in Curwensville, on a patriotic subject, since the present war commenced.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Have Bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

DIAMOND SHOAL LIGHTSHIP ESSAY IS INTERESTING

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—The sinking by German submarine of the U. S. Diamond Shoal lightship anchored off Cape Hatteras, gives timely interest to the following war geography bulletin of the National Geographic Society, based on a communication concerning lightships received by the Society from George R. Putnam, the foremost authority on lightships. The bulletin says:

"Notwithstanding the severe conditions, Diamond Shoal light vessel, off Cape Hatteras, has in recent years been maintained on the station with little interruption. The vessel was moored with a 7,500-pound mushroom anchor and 150 fathoms (900 feet) of heavy chain. About one-third of the length from the vessel a submerged spherical buoy was attached to the chain, carrying a part of its weight and greatly easing the pull of the vessel.

"The latest lightships are provided with powerful and distinctive lights and fog signals. They more nearly approach the lighthouse in design, having a tubular iron mast surmounted by a lantern, sometimes with a revolving lens supported like a pendulum to hang vertically, so that the light beam will be kept near the horizon regardless of the motion of the vessel. An example is the recently completed Milwaukee light vessel, which shows a double flash every 10 seconds. This vessel has a fog signal giving two blasts each minute, with intervals of 7 and 46 seconds.

"Life on a lightship is somewhat dreary, but not without excitement. During every fog the crew on Nantucket ship know that numerous vessels are headed directly for them, and in a storm, anchored as they are in the open sea, they may be far from comfortable. The men in turn are allowed liberal leave ashore. There are often serious difficulties in getting coal and provisions to the ships on exposed stations, so that it is necessary that they carry sufficient supplies to last over stormy periods.

"In 1899 the Columbia river light vessel was stranded near Cape Disappointment, and as it could not be gotten off into the sea again, it was hauled 700 yards across the land through the woods and launched in the Columbia river.

"The lightships, being necessarily near the channel ways, are frequently collided with. In January, 1912, a schooner ran into Diamond Shoal light vessel. The master, in his report, describes the damage done and states that 'the seamen and also the cook worked manfully all night in trying to save the mainmast, and that repairs having been made, the light having been kept burning as usual, and the ship kept in right position, unless very severe weather sets in the vessel will stay here until relieved.'

"The directions of the Superintendent of Lights in 1829 to the master of a light vessel instruct him 'not to slip or cut the cable, or suffer it to be done, in any event, and if the vessel should be likely to founder, to abandon her with his crew.'

"Lightships are placed in locations off the coast, where it would be impracticable or needlessly expensive to build a lighthouse, and they usually mark the approach to a port or bay or the outer limit of an off-lying danger.

WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO BLISS, WRITER OF FAMOUS HYMNS

Rev. O. B. Poulson, the traveling evangelist of the Central Pennsylvania M. E. Conference, who opened a two weeks' meeting at Hyde yesterday evening, has conceived the excellent idea of paying tribute to the memory of P. P. Bliss the old time world famous song writer, who wrote "Hold The Fort For I Am Coming," and hundreds of other almost equally as well known hymns.

It was determined through a query published in The Progress by Rev. Poulson several months ago that the noted hymn writer was not only a Clearfield County product, but had lived during his very early life at Hyde near the Geo. W. Hall home. It is generally agreed that Mr. Bliss was born near Penfield and that the family moved to Hyde when the hymn writer was quite young.

In recognition of this fact Rev. Poulson is arranging for a memorial service or tribute to this gifted writer who sounded the praises of and asked service for the Master in such pleasing cadences in the long ago that his creations are still being sung wherever the English language is spoken.

It is expected to hold the service a week from Sunday and an effort will be made to have the Clearfield Liberty Chorus and all the other singers of this section attend and render a program of Bliss soul-stirring hymns. Rev. Poulson will also preach a sermon on the life and achievements of the hymn writer with which he is quite familiar.

The idea of this memorial is proper and fitting and should have the support of all who have been thrilled by the burning eloquence of the old-time writer.

WORLD SHORTAGE IN BEET SUGAR

Crops Are 40 Per Cent. Less Than Pre-War Average—Central Powers Hit Hardest.

CANE SUGAR IS ISOLATED.

Allied Beet Production Falls One-third In Rigid War Economy Practiced.

The world today is producing forty per cent. less beet sugar than the pre-war average.

Counting the American, Allied and German-Austrian crops, as well as the neutral, the U. S. Food Administration has estimated that the world shortage created by the light crop of 1917-1918 is at least three and a half million tons.

That the 1917-1918 crop of cane sugar was two million tons in excess of the previous year does not relieve the general shortage.

Cuba and Java produce one-half of the world cane crop, and the Java sugar is too far removed from America to transport when shipping is badly needed to transport and maintain the military forces in France.

In Java a large part of the old sugar crop is still awaiting shipment. Since it requires 150 to 160 days for each boat that is sent to Java, the possibilities of obtaining adequate shipments of Java sugar this season are remote.

Allied Production Falls.

Taking the Allied nations as a group, official reports show that beet sugar production is less by one-third than the pre-war average.

French beet sugar industry has suffered most by the war. The French yield of beet sugar is now only 20.1 per cent. of the pre-war average.

For the five years preceding the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, France produced an average of 752,542 tons of sugar each year. For 1917-18 the French production was 219,416 tons.

With 61 factories more than 200 that were in existence before the war and before the extensive campaign of destruction launched by the German armies, France nevertheless managed to manufacture more beet sugar in 1917-18 than in 1916-17, when the total output was 202,415 tons.

Italy in 1917-18 produced 100,800 tons of beet sugar, which was 56,000 tons less than the previous year and 110,250 less than the annual output of sugar for the five year pre-war period.

One of the great difficulties experienced in Italy's beet sugar industry was finding sufficient labor to handle the crop. Thousands of men usually employed in beet sugar production were called for military service. The yield per acre amounted to approximately half of the usual quantity of beets harvested.

ANOTHER CLEARFIELD COUNTY BOY ENLISTS

Dr. L. J. Lanich and wife returned to Thomas, W. Va., Sunday after a delightful visit with Mrs. Lanich's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. S. Hoyt. Dr. Lanich has joined the Medical Reserve Corps and expects a call for active service at any time. His many friends wish him God speed and good luck in his new field of duty.

Spirited contests for the senatorial and gubernatorial nominations on both the Republican and Democratic tickets will feature the general primaries which will be held today in Nebraska.

ABSENT WITHOUT LEAVE

Grover Noll was picked up by the police yesterday afternoon on advice from the War Department for being absent without leave, the young man evidently having exceeded his furlough limit. He will be able to make the same excuse that was offered the Great Commander in Chief by one of the invited guests to the great feast when Christianity was in its infancy, as he married a wife the day his leave expired and he no doubt forgot the impending orders of the war god Mars while basking in the heart-warming rays of Dan Cupid.

is lost, democracy is lost—the world is lost.

Must Give Half Our Earnings.

The whole earning power of this country is about $50,000,000,000 a year; so that out of every $50 produced in this country during the next year the government must have $24. The division of our wealth during the next year must be practically on a 50-50 basis with the government.

Now, anyone can see that this thing must be done.

Anyone can see that if we give 50 per cent of all we produce to the government we cannot live as we always have lived.

During the past year or so we have not been scraping up the loose change and handing it to the government to finance the war. We must now go to the very heart of our ability and give until this great piece of financial work is accomplished.

He who pays taxes in whatever form they may rest upon him, must pay, and pay cheerfully, to make up that $8,000,000,000 which we must raise by taxation.

He who has money must invest it in Liberty bonds and War Savings stamps, so as to furnish his share of that $16,000,000,000 which the government must borrow.

He who has no money to invest must save, and invest his savings.

Must Become Even Stingy.

We must become a saving, an economical, a thrifty, a stingy nation towards everything but war.

We must go ragged and shabby.

We must turn and dye and renovate our old clothes.

We must postpone repairs and betterments.

We must put off the building of the new house.

We must do those things only which are of productive value.

We must economize in motor cars, in gasoline and in all forms of fuel.

We must burn wood where possible, if we burn coal we must sift the ashes.

We must simplify and cheapen our diet.

We must cut out luxuries and things which are unnecessary.

We must have our shoes patched and wear them as long as they will hang together.

We must buy nothing which must be shipped over the railroads, except where necessary.

We must draw our supplies from the nearest point.

We must live like misers and work like horses.

We must regard the smallest economy as of the most tremendous importance, no matter whether we are rich or poor.

We must save electricity.

We must spend our vacations at home.

We must get along without hired help except in case of absolute necessity or for the promotion of production.

We must put nothing saveable in the garbage barrel.

We must recover from garbage everything saveable put into it.

We must throw overboard all the dead weight of life so that the ship may not sink.

We must strip ourselves to the skin of everything which hampers our movements, so that we may win this fight.

This nation during the next year must become an athlete, abjuring every luxury, living on the plainest food, eating nothing, drinking nothing, wearing nothing except that which will make for victory.

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON WATER WAGON

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons

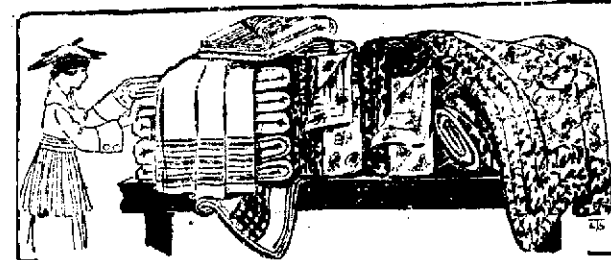

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try this:—Bath every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanse, sweeten and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of in-lie bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

Preparing Your Bedcovering Needs for the Cold Months Ahead Should Be Done at Once

vice and purchase during the next few days.

We hardly think it necessary to go into reasons, because every housewife has read about the enormous requirements of our Army for blankets, and the situation requires foresight and IMMEDIATE action. It is not a question of our getting more blankets, because prices would prohibit us from so doing. The blankets on our shelves were bought early last winter. So if you are going to pursue a policy of "safety first," take our advice and purchase during the next few days.

The Question of Blankets Is Gone Into Thoroughly in Today's Advertisement

"What are you going to do about blankets this year, Mrs. —?" is a remark heard every day. So why not ask yourself this question: WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT BLANKETS? You've read all about what manufacturers have had to say, about the apparent scarcity; so it will be good news for you to hear that this store has not been caught napping. We were determined that the term "shortage" would be heard very little here, and as a result are showing blankets in a range just as complete as in former years. However, all the reasons that pointed to early purchasing heretofore apply with equal or greater force this season. Because so great will be the demand of new customers who will turn to us that we doubt whether our supplies will meet all needs.

DRUNKEN NEGRO IS CAUGHT AFTER HE STABS PEACEMAKER

A cutting affray, which came mightily near resulting in a tragedy, occurred in the alley in the rear of the Windsor Hotel just shortly after the noon hour today.

Lewis Andrews, a drunken negro employed at the Harrison-Walker brick works, entered the kitchen at the Windsor and when ordered out became abusive. Mrs. Margaret Leonard, the cook, called to Edward Endress, who was passing up Third street on his way to dinner, to come in and take the man away. Mr. Endress went to the rescue and when he asked him what he was doing in there he replied "None of your business," and when ordered out quickly pulled a knife from his pocket and slashed Endress on the hand and across the ribs and also plunged the knife into his right groin.

The negro then started to run and the injured man after him. He caught him at the rear of Dufton's hardware store and swinging on the back of his neck knocked him down. He then proceeded to literally kick the head of him and was in a fair way to succeed when persons attracted to the scene interfered to save the slasher's life.

Officer Carlson was promptly on the scene and arrested the badly battered negro and placed him in the lock up.

Mr. Endress was taken to the office of Dr. Waterworth where his injuries were attended to. The knife thrust in the groin is his most serious injury, and he was taken to the Clearfield Hospital for further examination and treatment.

Overlooking no portion of their new voting rights, many women of Texas served as delegates to the recent county conventions in their state. The interest manifested by the women surprised the politicians.

FRENCH MAKE 2 MILE PENETRATION ON THE OISE-AISNE TEN MILE FRONTADVANCE CONTINUING SATISFACTORY AND THREATENS ENTIRE HUN LINE ALONG
THE AISNE EASTWARD

MORE THAN 500 PRISONERS TAKEN TODAY'S CASUALTIES

London, Aug. 20, 1.30 p. m.—French troops attacking on a ten mile front this morning between the Oise and the Aisne had advanced to a maximum of two miles at nine o'clock, according to dispatches received here this afternoon. The attack is continuing satisfactorily, it is learned, and the French advance now endangers the whole of the German line along the Aisne from Soissons eastward.

It will cause no surprise if the Germans soon withdraw to the Chemin des Dames. More than 500 additional prisoners have been taken in this new attack. At the same time the French are striking north of the Oise. They have reached the outskirts of Thiescourt (2 miles southeast of Lassigny and 5 miles southwest of Noyon.) They have also captured Bracquemont and Sendu wood and most of the village of Deuvrux.

Paris, Aug. 20, 10.10 a. m.—The French continued to extend and consolidate their gains on both sides of Noyon. They have penetrated further toward Roye and Lassigny and the latter town on the north has virtually been occupied. The Germans have started a fearful barrage while the French are shelling Noyon from two directions. The French are about 9,000 yards or 5 miles from that town on the south. General Mangin's artillery is sweeping all the territory except the narrow outlet toward Guisard, 5 miles north of Noyon.

By United Press

Two French armies striking simultaneously on a wide front between the Oise and the Aisne and north of the Oise today made extensive gains. General Mangin's troops drove a deep wedge into the enemy front, taking hundreds of prisoners and threatening to out-flank the German position on the southern end of the Picardy end and on the western edge of the Soissons-Rheims line.

The enemy has been forced to withdraw his heavy artillery beyond Noyon according to the Hour, a leading Paris newspaper, this afternoon. His positions in the Noyon region on the Oise front are expected to fall. The French have taken the heights commanding the Aisne and the Oise valleys.

That Germany is apparently facing a serious man power situation on the western front is evidenced by the demands upon Emperor Karl for heavy Austrian forces. Dispatches from Zurich today stated that current rumors in Vienna declared that Emperor Karl had refused the German demands.

From other sources considered reliable it was learned in Washington today that the visit of Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria in Germany is an enforced one. Ferdinand, it is stated, is virtually held a hostage by the Germans due to fears that Bulgaria intends to quit the Teutonic alliance if opportunity offers. Reports that Ferdinand attempted to negotiate with the Allied leaders caused his summons to Berlin and the subsequent announcement that he would remain indefinitely in Germany for "a rest". It is considered significant that Ferdinand was not in attendance at the recent council of the Kaiser's.

Paris, Aug. 20.—French troops advanced further between the Oise and the Aisne last night, capturing the village of Vassins, the War Office announced today. In the Lassigny region there was artillery fighting, the communique said. Northwest of Morsaint the French occupied Vassins. West of Maison, in the Champagne, a German raid was successful.

London, Aug. 20.—Japanese troops have landed at Nikolisk to protect the citizens, according to official dispatches received today. Nikolisk is situated near the mouth of the Amur river, 750 miles north of Vladivostok.

AMERICAN STEAMER RAMMED AND MOST PROBABLY SUNK GERMAN SUBMARINE

Washington Aug. 2.—A German submarine was rammed and probably sunk by an American steamer at 9.30 p. m. August 17, near Winter Quarters Shoals off the Virginia coast the Navy Department announced today. The captain stated that the submarine was smashed on the port bow bringing her along side the vessel. The captain is of the opinion that the U-boat was so badly damaged that she sank. The Navy Department was not advised as to whether the ramming was intentional or accidental.

LET US DO LIKEWISE

During the week of August 26th the National Fraternal Congress of America and the National Fraternal Press Association will be held in Philadelphia. At the stroke of the Liberty Bell, the Star Spangled Banner will be sung at the close of a patriotic convalesce in Independence Square be the assembled hosts. Philadelphia fraternalists are planning to make the affair nation wide and have its message carried round the world. They seek to have fraternal organizations in every city in the nation follow their example by meeting on the same night in their respective towns and cities, having one short patriotic address, sing a number of patriotic songs and wind up by singing in unison "The Star Spangled Banner".

The idea is wonderful—it is tremendous. It is in accord with the highest ideals of Fraternalism and Patriotism.

Why can not the fraternal organizations of Clearfield meet, say in Witmer Park, next Tuesday night and follow out this idea? There need be no organization, no parade or regalia, unless lodges desire to do so as a unit. We know that Professor Thayer and the Liberty Chorus will take the lead if the different fraternal organizations of town desire to do this thing. Talk about it in your meetings this week and let us know what your members think of the idea.

A NARROW ESCAPE

A Fourth Ward child had a very narrow escape last evening. When sitting on the floor the child was seen to pitch forward and lay writhing on the floor. Her face turned blue from choking and while the child was getting some air it was not enough to sustain life very long. Doctor J. M. Quigley was summoned who, grasping the child by its heels, with a dexterous shake, dislodged a full sized, baker's loaf of bread from the child's throat. The little one had found it between the cracks in the flooring and as the pronograph was playing at the time no one noticed her trying to masticate it.

BOARDS ANNOUNCE
HOLDING PLACES OF REGISTRATION

Washington, Aug. 19 — Provost Marshal General Crowder today estimated that 150,011 men who have reached the age of 21 years since June 5 1918 will register on August 24. Of these it is believed that 50 per cent, or approximately 75,000 men will be available for Class 1. The estimate by states gives Pennsylvania 13,583.

All three of the Selective Service Boards of the county have completed arrangements for the registration of young men who have become 21 years of age since last June 5th or who will reach the age of 21 on or before registration day, August 24th.

These men in District No. 1 will register at their nearest point to Clearfield or Winburne, these two points being easy of access to the men of District No. 1.

Men of District No. 2 will register at DuBois, Mahaffey, Grampian and Tyler.

The men of District No. 3 will register at Houtzdale, Osceola and Coalport.

Do not forget the date August 24th and remember that a heavy penalty is provided for those who neglect to comply with the law.

The Local Selective Service board has everything in readiness for the registration on August 24th next of all those young men who have reached the age of 21 years since June 5th last.

During the twelve months from June 5, 1917, to June 5, 1918, a total of 259 young men became of age in District No. 1 and if the same ratio maintains throughout the past three months there will be not more than sixty, or sixty-five at the outside, to register on Saturday a week.

On account of the small number of registrants expected the board has arranged for but two places of registration, Selective Service headquarters in Clearfield and at Winburne. These two places will accommodate the heavy centres of population in the district and the occasional registrants from other sections may make out their certificates and mail them in.

HUNDREDS KILLED IN PETROGRAD IN BIG FOOD RIOTS

Amsterdam, Aug. 20—Hundreds of persons have been killed and wounded in a terrible food riot which is under way in Petrograd according to dispatches received from Berlin today. Workers who have been without bread for two days shouted "away with Germany." They encountered a detachment of Lettish guards and Smolny Institute leaders and a battle ensued in which hundreds of persons were killed and injured on both sides. Martial law has been proclaimed.

Professor H. Clark Thayer head of the Susquehanna College of Music has returned from a much needed vacation. His fall term opens September 2nd.

SIDEWALK BICYCLE
RIDING IS ORDERED
STOPPED BY POLICE

The regular meeting of council at the borough building last evening was presided over by President Pletcher and attended by nine of the twelve members.

On account of war conditions and scarcity of labor there was not much business on hands for disposition. The Highway department recommended a number of repairs necessary before bad weather sets in and Street Commissioner Graham was directed to treble his street force if he could get the men.

Mayor Chase's report for July which was read at this meeting showed 39 arrests during the month; $130 collected in fines and $19 in licenses, or a total of $149 turned into the borough treasury for the month.

Mrs. Fred Preston was present and complained regarding sanitary conditions in her neighborhood and asked to have the alley alongside of her premises on West Fifth avenue repaired and put in shape for use.

W. B. Breth was present and complained regarding the running of small express wagons on the sidewalk along Turnpike avenue. He said it was not only a nuisance but a menace to life and limb. The police were directed to break up the practice under the provisions of the ordinance governing such cases.

Complaint was made regarding the grade of the new sidewalk on the Locust street side of the Diggins theatre property on the removal of the bow window on the residence discussed and action on same postponed until next meeting, when the Highway department will report on the sidewalk grade.

Mayor Chase stated that a flag raising was being scheduled for Clearfield and it had been suggested that the pole be erected in the center of the "diamond" where the iron traffic cop now stands. After some discussion Council went on record as being heartily in favor of the flag raising but opposed to placing any possible obstruction to traffic in the street, suggesting at the same time that the flag be placed on the court house tower or in front of the court house. The mayor stated the matter of location would be in the hands of a committee appointed for that purpose at Thursday night's meeting.

Application for increase of salary was made by the policemen and the same was referred to the Finance committee for report at next meeting. The matter of the establishment of the proper sidewalk line on West Third avenue was referred to the Highway department. Also the question of having the sidewalks on Third street above Margaretta, raised to the established grade.

There being no further business council adjourned to meet Monday evening, September 2d, at 8 o'clock.

THE FRENCHVILLE PICNIC

The Frenchville picnic tomorrow will be attended by the usual large crowd of Clearfield people. This will be the fourth annual picnic at Frenchville and of today's weather is any criterion another picnic without rain will be added to the list of the interesting thirty-nine years they have never had rain enough to spoil one of their picnics.

MEN WHO REGISTERED JUNE 5 CAN DO DOUBLE SERVICE BY GOING NOW

Twenty-four young men of District No. 1 of the registration of 1917 were engaged in farm work, and under the provisions for securing the maximum production from the farms of the country they were held back from enrollment under General Crowder's telegram B-30 which provided that men actually engaged in farming when their order number was reached were to be passed over until the crops were harvested and stored. The increased demand for men exhausted Class 1 of 1917 earlier than had been anticipated and before these men had completed their farm work.

These men never asked for deferred classification but agreed to remain at work until the pressing need for them was ended.

Every one of these men is working on a farm which put out additional crops and are endeavoring to help out in the production of food for the Nation's needs. They are in no sense slackers, and stand ready and willing to answer their call.

These men are sorely needed on the farm for another month at least. The only way in which they can be saved to the farm for that length of time for an equal number of men from Class 1 of the 1918 registration to come forward and volunteer under the call for next week which requires 20 men to be entrained from District No. 1.

The men of Class 1 of the 1918 registration will receive a call in a few weeks at most, many of them have expressed a desire for immediate induction into the service. The Local Board has permission from the Adjutant General's office to accept sufficient volunteers from the 1918 registrants to fill this call.

Men of the 1918 class, can, therefore, at one and the same time do a double service to their country, first in answering their call, and second by anticipating the call a few weeks in order to leave these badly needed men at home. In other words, it will mean practically trading places with these men until their crops are taken care of.

Men who wish to be considered on this Call should notify their Board at once. These men on this call will go to Camp Lee, and on the 30th there will be 7 more to go to Camp Greene.

LIVE LIKE A MISER
WORK LIKE A HORSE AND WIN THE WAR

By HERBERT QUICK.

It has become a common saying that democracy is inefficient. We have often read that it takes a despotism to do things.

The Germans believed that they could win this war and conquer the world for two reasons: first, because, in spite of some things which look democratic, the German empire is a despotism; and second, because it is the first despotism in the history of the world which has reached a very high point in general physical and mental development. They and many people in the democratic countries believed that they could win against the democracies of the world.

Democracy, they said, would be the anvil; despotism the hammer. Democracy would be the whole; despotism would be the swordfish. Democracy would be the target; despotism the gun.

Democracy would be the deer; despotism the wolf. Democracy the huge, unwieldy grazing animal; despotism the fish enter with fangs and claws.

Surprises for Despotism.

The splendid resistance of Belgium and France, the magnificent rallying of Great Britain to the trumpet call, and the intrepid decision of Italy to join in resistance to the German attack, were the greatest surprises which up to that time had ever been encountered by a despot. Before the war had been going on for six months some of the wisest of the cold and crumbly minds of Germany began to wonder whether after all the democracies of the world were not too strong to be overcome.

And then came the biggest surprise of the war. The greatest democracy of the world—the United States—slowly began to realize that the whole cause of freedom for the common man, not only in Europe and in Asia, but here in America, was at stake in the war. Slowly the idea began to penetrate the American mind that the machinations of Germany constituted a greater peril to this country than did the issue fought out in the American revolution or in the desecration of our own war between the states.

America saw at last that if Germany wins this war democracy will have failed; not only the democracy of European countries, but the democracy of the world. There would be nothing left for us through all the future but a losing fight against the most cruel and efficient despotism of all time.

And finally in spite of our own peace of history, in spite of our own love of peace in spite of German lies and German propaganda, and the damnable plots of German spies, the United States acted.

The nation reached slowly for the sword, drew it, and plunged with all her mighty power into this dreadful fray.

And so, on some of the bloodiest battle fields that ever desecrated the soil of any country, our splendid American soldiers are bearing the Stars and Stripes to victory.

DEMOCRACY IS PROVING A SELF EFFICIENT.

They carry the Stars and Stripes to victory alongside the flags of Great Britain, France, Italy and a score of other nations, because they know that they are fighting the old battle of right against wrong, of democracy against despotism, and that if they lose, the whole history of the United States becomes at once as if it never had been.

Democracy is Proving Efficient.

That is the thing which must strike terror to the hearts of the poisoners, violators and baby killers of Berlin.

We have met and vanquished the submarine. We are now placing in the field in Europe our second million of men, and back of that second million there is a third million, a fourth million, a fifth million and still other millions of men.

We have shown ourselves efficient in production. We have more than made good our promise to send food to our allies. We have organized our industries for war.

We have firmly resolved that having drawn the sword we will throw away the scabbard and never sheath that sword except in victory.

Victory a Matter of Money.

But this war is a progressive thing. It cannot be won through things we have done, but must be carried on to victory through things which we must do in the future. On one side we see that splendid host of young men carrying our banners in the battlefields of France and Flanders. On the other side we must remember that war, and its war more than any other war which was ever waged, is a matter of food, of shelter, of clothing, of munitions, of weapons, of roads, of engines, of cars, of ships, of hospitals, of medicines, and of everything which gives to our boys in the field that magnificent dash, and vim, and power which has struck the German soldiers with dismay.

In other words, winning this war is a matter of money.

It is a matter of money not only for the treasury of the United States, but for all our allies.

When you buy a Liberty bond or a War Savings stamp it means money for the United States treasury.

When you pay your income taxes or any of your other contributions to the government it means money for the United States treasury.

But money is only a representative of value and a medium of exchange. Do not look upon your dollar as a mere piece of currency. Do not look upon the United States treasury as a mere repository of your funds.

Our Treasury Upholding World.

The United States treasury today is the god atlas who holds the world upon his shoulders.

It furnishes money to every one of our allies which needs money. It breathes hope and confidence into allied army which is losing heart. It puts in the field the artillery which answers the German gun with alike shot. It keeps our armies going forward instead of backward. It holds the line against the German onslaught.

During the coming year this nation must raise $24,000,000,000. It is about time to begin calling them Victory loans. Whatever we call them, however, $24,000,000,000 during the next year the United States government must have to carry out our great, magnificent and world-saving program. About $16,000,000,000 of this must be raised by loans, and $8,000,000,000 by taxation.

If we do not raise this money the United States treasury will have failed, and when the United States treasury fails the war is lost. If the war

"WELL"

The word "well" is probably the most abused word in the English language. Besides being used as a verb, an adverb, a noun and an adjective, there are many who persist in prefacing their every remark with the word "well". It is a word roundly cursed by court stenographers and printers. Recently we noticed a long drawn out case in which the principal witness who was on the stand for hours prefaced every reply with "well". Well we were disgusted.

RIDING ON SIDEWALKS

The police should have the support of every parent in carrying out the orders of council to prohibit the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks. This practice is a danger to every small child in the city and the source of constant worry to mothers living along a level street. It should be broken up without delay and never again be permitted. Those who see it done will be conferring a favor on their neighbors by calling the police immediately.

GET READY FOR SCHOOL

The Clearfield School Board has given notice that the borough schools will open on September 2nd and have had an advertisement to that effect printed. They make an urgent plea that all pupils entering the schools this winter be vaccinated at once so that their opening days of school will not be interrupted with sore arms or illness. This is a wise suggestion and every pupil should be vaccinated at once so that they will have the benefit of the full term and, especially, of starting right.

ELECT REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN

The prevalent thought that is agitating the wisest Republican minds in the country today is the importance of electing Republican nominees to Congress at the November election. Republican National Chairman Hays is exercising his energies in the movement throughout the country, and State Leader Penrose for some time past has exerted his efforts in the same direction, therefore, it is with practical official approval that enables this journal to help in propagating such patriotic propaganda. Up to the present time it is a matter of public record that Republicans in the Congress have energetically supported every war measure of the present administration, and less than this would not be expected were Republicans in a majority in the House of Representatives. Argument to the contrary is mere fol-de-rol and should be considered accordingly. The welfare of this country could not be more dear to Democratic Congressmen than it is to present Republican nominees for that office, for the reason that patriotism is something more than party faith or factional affiliation. A man must first be an American before he could qualify as a Republican, hence it is of national importance that the Republican party should be fully organized, and the first move in this direction would be to follow the advice of Chairman Hays and elect Republicans to Congress. No one knows at this time what the aftermath of the present world war will develop. It would be only wise to begin now to prepare for eventualities.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—After the new revenue bill comes into effect every person who steps up to the soda fountain and orders a glass of "fizz" will be helping Uncle Sam to keep his coffers filled with the money necessary to carry on the war. The tax of from 1 to 2 cents on all soda fountain drinks, which has been written into the $8,000,000,000 revenue bill by the House ways and means committee, is expected to add many millions of dollars to the Nation's yearly income.

In no other country of the world would a tax on soda water yield such a vast amount, for in no country except the United States does the soft drink habit prevail to the extent it does here. And even in his country it is only in the past decade or two that the soda water industry has reached large proportions. The older generation of today can easily remember the time when the soda fountain was an almost insignificant adjunct to the drug store. But with the introduction of ice-cream soda and a wide variety of mixed drinks the habit of soda drinking took a firm hold on the American people. Today the soft drink emporiums are among the most flourishing establishments to be found in every city and town throughout the land.

Although the soft drink habit is confined almost wholly to the people of America, it was an Englishman, Dr. Joseph Priestly of Leeds, who made the first drinkable glass of soda water. This was as long ago as 1767. Dr. Priestly prepared the draught by pouring water briskly back and forth between two goblets "held in a layer of carbon dioxide on the top of a fermenting mash in a brewer's vat."

An establishment for the sale of mineral waters was opened in New Haven in 1808 by Professor Silliman and at about the same time New York was provided with its first establishment for the sale of soft drinks.

ALLONE, ALL ALONE THEY HAVE LEFT HIM

Leo Allone is alone again through no fault of his own however. Yesterday morning Ex-Judge Allison O. Smith filed an application for divorce on behalf of Leo who seeks to be alone once more rather than live with his wife Josephine Allone. From the facts stated in the application, it appears that while the woman alone could not make trouble for Allone she was not alone in the particular instances complained of but had the assistance of one Joe Allone and this alone was responsible for Leo Allone wanting to go it alone.

Joe Allone has left the county, moving up into "Camberry" county, but that does not appease the wrath of Leo Allone who prefers to live alone even though the other Allone has also left Mrs. Allone alone at Coalport.

Chicago has a patriotic society made up of women who are American citizens of foreign birth or parentage.

Packers' Profits Are Regulated

The public should understand that the profits of the packers have been limited by the Food Administration since November 1, 1917. For this purpose, the business of Swift & Company is now divided into three classes:

Class 1 includes such products as beef, pork, mutton, oleomargarine and others that are essentially animal products. Profits are limited to 9 per cent of the capital employed in these departments, (including surplus and borrowed money), or not to exceed two and a half cents on each dollar of sales.

Class 2 includes the soap, glue, fertilizer, and other departments more or less associated with the meat business. Many of these departments are in competition with outside businesses whose profits are not limited. Profits in this class are restricted to 15 per cent of the capital employed.

Class 3 includes outside investments, such as those in stock yards, and the operation of packing plants in foreign countries. Profits in this class are not limited.

Total profits for all departments together in 1918 will probably be between three and four per cent on an increased volume of sales.

The restrictions absolutely guarantee a reasonable relation between live stock prices and wholesale meat prices, because the packer's profit can not possibly average more than a fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Since the profits on meat (Class 1) are running only about 2 cents on each dollar of sales, we have to depend on the profits from soap, glue, fertilizer (Class 2, also limited) and other departments (Class 3) to obtain reasonable earnings on capital.

Swift & Company is conducting its business so as to come within these limitations.

KILLS BIG SNAKE AT GOSHEN CLUB HOUSE

A four foot rattler, with a sectional alarm measuring three inches in length and containing eleven alarm bells was killed by Walter Camper at the club house of the Goshen Road and Gun club on the old Spence place at the foot of the mountains Sunday afternoon.

His snakeship from its size and venerable looks appeared to be the daddy of all the rattlers in Goshen township met his death at the hands of the former Virginia mountaineer and moonshiner under the back porch at the Club house.

The old fellow had his loafing place conveniently near the outside entrance to the cellar door and as "a dog" was tied in the cellar and a great many visitors had been down to see him during the day the snake was pretty busy sounding his alarm which he did every time any one approached his resting place. In going into the cellar every fellow dodged by within two feet of the diamond-backed death dealer.

Camper discovered the reptile about 4 o'clock as he was returning from the cellar. When he saw the snake coiled within two feet of his nose he wasn't exactly sure of himself, but adjusting his glasses looked long and carefully at the "animale" without convincing himself absolutely that it was there and in the flesh. He was undecided as to his procedure in the matter and didn't want to sound the alarm if there was really no snake there. After getting out into the air an looking all about and around the house and not seeing that snake or any other anywhere else, he mustered up courage enough to tell his friend Jack Wise confidentially what he thought he saw. Jack's nerve was quite steady and being also "from Vahginyah sah!" he reckoned he could tell a rattler if he saw it and together they approached the spot. One look was enough and when Jack said a "rattlah, suah enuff" Camper raised a right hand and with one blow crushed the head of the serpent.

The monster was skinned and the slayer will have a belt made from the hide as a trophy of the hunt. He was also much relieved when he discovered it was a real snake.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Mrs. Calvin Bilger and son of Bloom township spent Sunday with Harry Bilger and wife on Pine street.

Mrs. Benjamin Brenstein, of Pittsburgh, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Robinson.

Mrs. Martha Broome returned home yesterday after spending several days at Clearfield with her sister, Mrs. Geo. W. Gray.

A diphtheria sign was posted on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Edmonston North Walnut street, yesterday forenoon.

Morris Kephart, wife and family, motored to Curwensville yesterday from Johnstown for a stay of a day or so with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller are contemplating a trip soon to visit their son, Russell, who is located at Camp Meade.

Wm. Hipps left for Bradford yesterday evening. He represents Curwensville lodge K. of P. at the grand lodge sessions which open in that city today.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson who have been visiting with relatives and friends in the eastern part of the state for the past two weeks or more, returned to their home on Friday evening.

Miss Lou Holden and Miss Ruth LaPorte were Clearfield visitors last Saturday and during their stay at the county seat did some shopping as well as calling on old friends.

Mr. Hess and wife who went on a vacation trip last week have had bad luck. Mr. Hess was taken ill and was forced to enter a hospital where he has been operated on for appendicitis. Mr. Hess is the blue print man at the Bickford office.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Maurer, accompanied by Mrs. Georgia Passmore, a sister of Mrs. Maurer, started Sunday for Clymer in the auto. Somewhere along the route a spring in the machine broke, which detained the home coming until Monday.

The members of Curwensville Liberty Chorus did themselves proud at Bloomington Sunday afternoon. They were highly commended for the music rendered, and Glen Richey and Bloomington, people certainly appreciated their selections as rendered.

Mr. Hoover, father of Harry Hoover, an employee of the bank, is visiting with his son this week. He is a veteran of the civil war, having served with Co. K, old Bucktails. He and John H. Norris had the distinction of having been the two tallest soldiers of old Company K.

Frank Mullen received a letter from his son, Russell Mullen, who enlisted in a cavalry regiment about two years ago, and for some time stationed on the border, stating that he is now in Washington, D. C., and has attained the position of drill sergeant over three companies.

A new bridge is being put in at the foot of hog back hill near Ferncliff. A passageway has been made so that travel will not be impeded. It is a little unhandy for autoists but with careful driving they can get around the obstruction without damage. The old bridge was so damaged by one of the recent rises of water in the run as to make it unsafe for any kind of a vehicle.

Dr. Lave and wife visited with relatives in town over Sunday. The doctor is a first lieutenant and is attached to the examining board at Camp Lee, Virginia. The doctor and his wife were accompanied by Dr. Hurd, a prominent physician of Galeton, Pa. he being also the president of the National bank of his home town. Both gentlemen gave it as their opinion that they had never visited a prettier town or met more social people than during their visit here.

Saturday was pay day at most of the industries of this place, and in consequence merchants were made happy by being recompensed for the large amount of goods sold and delivered to the workmen. As one merchant stated "there is more money paid out in Curwensville for labor, etc., than in any other town of its size in the state." Crowds of people were on the streets until a late hour, but there was never an occurrence to mar

Ed Benson informed us yesterday that his brother-in-law First Lieut. William Castleberry, is now located in Washington in the Quartermasters Department, and that he has charge of all the bakery shops in the different camps. Mrs. Castleberry is working with the Red Cross society in that city. Mr. Castleberry is quite well known to Curwensville people, he having been a clerk in the Hoarings Run stone company's office here for several years, going west and locating in Portland, Oregon, later, from which place he entered the army. He served two terms before in the regular army, part of which service was over in the Philippine Islands.

The fourth public flag raising in Curwensville occurred at Naulton, in the Patton Addition, on Friday evening. The newly-organized Curwensville Liberty Chorus gave the opening selection and rendered several other selections during the exercises. As the Crescent band played, John H. Norris, an original member of the First Bucktails, slowly raised the flag to the top of a magnificent pole, more than sixty feet from the ground, and painted alternately in bands of red, white and blue. As the flag neared the top of the pole and the folds released, a beautiful white dove, representing universal peace, fluttered forth and flew straight westward, an omen that our boys over there will soon be in Berlin, and numerous small American flags fell to the ground.

Prayer was offered by Rev. J. Max Lantz, of the Curwensville Methodist church, the chairman of the meeting. John A. Dale, made a few introductory remarks, and Rev. J. H. Cooke gave a reading on "The Flag". Roland D. Swopes, Esq., then delivered the oration which was one of the best heard in Curwensville, on a patriotic subject, since the present war commenced.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Have Bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

DIAMOND SHOAL LIGHTSHIP ESSAY IS INTERESTING

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—The sinking by German submarine of the U. S. Diamond Shoal lightship anchored off Cape Hatteras, gives timely interest to the following war geography bulletin of the National Geographic Society, based on a communication concerning lightships received by the Society from George R. Putnam, the foremost authority on lightships. The bulletin says:

"Notwithstanding the severe conditions, Diamond Shoal light vessel, off Cape Hatteras, has in recent years been maintained on the station with little interruption. The vessel was moored with a 7,500-pound mushroom anchor and 150 fathoms (900 feet) of heavy chain. About one-third of the length from the vessel a submerged spherical buoy was attached to the chain, carrying a part of its weight and greatly easing the pull of the vessel.

"The latest lightships are provided with powerful and distinctive lights and fog signals. They more nearly approach the lighthouse in design, having a tubular iron mast surmounted by a lantern, sometimes with a revolving lens supported like a pendulum to hang vertically, so that the light beam will be kept near the horizon regardless of the motion of the vessel. An example is the recently completed Milwaukee light vessel, which shows a double flash every 10 seconds. This vessel has a fog signal giving two blasts each minute, with intervals of 7 and 46 seconds.

"Life on a lightship is somewhat dreary, but not without excitement. During every fog the crew on Nantucket ship know that numerous vessels are headed directly for them, and in a storm, anchored as they are in the open sea, they may be far from comfortable. The men in turn are allowed liberal leave ashore. There are often serious difficulties in getting coal and provisions to the ships on exposed stations, so that it is necessary that they carry sufficient supplies to last over stormy periods.

"In 1899 the Columbia river light vessel was stranded near Cape Disappointment, and as it could not be gotten off into the sea again, it was hauled 700 yards across the land through the woods and launched in the Columbia river.

"The lightships, being necessarily near the channel ways, are frequently collided with. In January, 1912, a schooner ran into Diamond Shoal light vessel. The master, in his report, describes the damage done and states that 'the seamen and also the cook worked manfully all night in trying to save the mainmast,' and that 'repairs having been made, the light having been kept burning as usual, and the ship kept in right position, unless very severe weather sets in the vessel will stay here until relieved.'

"The directions of the Superintendent of Lights in 1829 to the master of a light vessel instruct him 'not to slip or cut the cable, or suffer it to be done, in any event, and if the vessel should be likely to founder, to abandon her with his crew.'

"Lightships are placed in locations off the coast, where it would be impracticable or needlessly expensive to build a lighthouse, and they usually mark the approach to a port or bay or the outer limit of an off-lying danger.

WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO BLISS, WRITER OF FAMOUS HYMNS

Rev. O. B. Poulson, the traveling evangelist of the Central Pennsylvania M. E. Conference, who opened a two weeks' meeting at Hyde yesterday evening, has conceived the excellent idea of paying tribute to the memory of P. P. Bliss the old time world famous song writer, who wrote "Hold The Fort For I Am Coming," and hundreds of other almost equally as well known hymns.

It was determined through a query published in The Progress by Rev. Poulson several months ago that the noted hymn writer was not only a Clearfield County product, but had lived during his very early life at Hyde near the Geo. W. Hall home. It is generally agreed that Mr. Bliss was born near Penfield and that the family moved to Hyde when the hymn writer was quite young.

In recognition of this fact Rev. Poulson is arranging for a memorial service or tribute to this gifted writer who sounded the praises of and asked service for the Master in such pleasing cadences in the long ago that his creations are still being sung wherever the English language is spoken.

It is expected to hold the service a week from Sunday and an effort will be made to have the Clearfield Liberty Chorus and all the other singers of this section attend and render a program of Bliss soul-stirring hymns. Rev. Poulson will also preach a sermon on the life and achievements of the hymn writer with which he is quite familiar.

The idea of this memorial is proper and fitting and should have the support of all who have been thrilled by the burning eloquence of the old-time writer.

WORLD SHORTAGE IN BEET SUGAR

Crops Are 40 Per Cent. Less Than Pre-War Average—Central Powers Hit Hardest.

CANE SUGAR IS ISOLATED.

Allied Beet Production Falls One-third In Rigid War Economy Practiced.

The world today is producing forty per cent. less beet sugar than the pre-war average.

Counting the American, Allied and German-Austrian crops, as well as the neutral, the U. S. Food Administration has estimated that the world shortage created by the light crop of 1917-1918 is at least three and a half million tons.

That the 1917-1918 crop of cane sugar was two million tons in excess of the previous year does not relieve the general shortage.

Cuba and Java produce one-half of the world cane crop, and the Java sugar is too far removed from America to transport when shipping is badly needed to transport and maintain the military forces in France.

In Java a large part of the old sugar crop is still awaiting shipment. Since it requires 150 to 160 days for each boat that is sent to Java, the possibilities of obtaining adequate shipments of Java sugar this season are remote.

Allied Production Falls.
Taking the Allied nations as a group, official reports show that beet sugar production is less by one-third than the pre-war average.

French beet sugar industry has suffered most by the war. The French yield of beet sugar is now only 20.1 per cent. of the pre-war average.

For the five years preceding the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, France produced an average of 752,542 tons of sugar each year. For 1917-18, the French production was 219,416 tons.

With 61 factories now operating, as compared with more than 200 that were in existence before the war and before the extensive campaign of destruction launched by the German armies, France nevertheless managed to manufacture more beet sugar in 1917-18 than in 1916-17, when the total output was 202,415 tons.

Italy in 1917-18 produced 100,800 tons of beet sugar, which was 56,000 tons less than the previous year and 110,250 less than the annual output of sugar for the five year pre-war period.

One of the great difficulties experienced in Italy's beet sugar industry was finding sufficient labor to handle the crop. Thousands of men usually employed in beet sugar production were called for military service. The yield per acre amounted to approximately half of the usual quantity of beets harvested.

TODAY'S EVENTS

1481st day of the Great War.

Raymond Poincare, President of the French Republic, is 58 years old today.

The anniversary of the death of Pope Pius X. will be observed today with the celebration of masses in the crypt of St. Peter's at Rome.

The parade of veterans, the big spectacular event of the Grand Army national encampment at Portland, Ore., will be held today.

The annual convention of the New England Photographers' Association will be entertained at Springfield, Mass., during the three days beginning today.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., is to be the meeting place today of the annual national encampment of the Sons of Veterans.

A Democratic primary will be held in Mississippi today to name candidates for United States senator, representatives in Congress, circuit judges and chancellors.

Republicans of Delaware are to meet in State convention today to frame their platform for the fall campaign.

The Certified Milk Producers' Association of America will meet in annual convention at Buffalo today and continue in session over tomorrow.

The credit situation resulting from the war will be discussed in all its phases at the annual convention of the National Association of Retail Credit Men, which meets in Boston today for a four-day session.

The nation's wool supply will be a leading subject of discussion at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Retail Clothiers' Association, which begins its sessions today in Milwaukee.

James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, is scheduled as a speaker at the "Liberty Convention" of the Cotton States Merchants' Association, which is to meet today at Memphis.

Spirited contests for the senatorial and gubernatorial nominations on both the Republican and Democratic tickets will feature the general primaries which will be held today in Nebraska.

ABSENT WITHOUT LEAVE

Grover Noll was picked up by the police yesterday afternoon on advice from the War Department for being absent without leave, the young man evidently having exceeded his furlough limit. He will be able to make the same excuse that was offered the Great Commander in Chief by one of the invited guests to the great feast when Christianity was in its infancy, as he married a wife the day his leave expired and he no doubt forgot the impending orders of the war god Mars while basking in the heart-warming rays of Dan Cupid.

LIVE LIKE A MISER WORK LIKE A HORSE AND WIN THE WAR

is lost, democracy is lost—the world is lost.

Must Give Half Our Earnings.

The whole earning power of this country is about $50,000,000,000 a year; so that out of every $50 produced in this country during the next year the government must have $24. The division of our wealth during the next year must be practically on a 50-50 basis with the government.

Now, anyone can see that this thing must be done.

Anyone can see that if we give 50 per cent of all we produce to the government we cannot live as we always have lived.

During the past year or so we have not been scraping up the loose change and handing it to the government to finance the war. We must now go to the very heart of our ability and give up this great piece of financial work as accomplished.

He who pays taxes in whatever form they may rest upon him, must pay, and pay cheerfully, to make up that $8,000,000,000 which we must raise by taxation.

He who has money must invest it in Liberty bonds and War Savings stamps, so as to furnish his share of that $16,000,000,000 which the government must borrow.

He who has no money to invest must save, and invest his savings.

Must Become Even Stingy.

We must become a saving, an economical, a thrifty, a stingy nation towards everything but war.

We must go ragged and shabby. We must turn and dye and renovate our old clothes.

We must postpone repairs and betterments.

We must put off the building of the new house.

We must do those things only which are of productive value.

We must economize in motor cars, in gasoline and in all forms of fuel.

We must burn wood where possible. If we burn coal we must sift the ashes.

We must simplify and cheapen our diet.

We must cut out luxuries and things which are unnecessary.

We must have our shoes patched and wear them as long as they will hang together.

We must buy nothing which must be shipped over the railroads, except where necessary.

We must draw our supplies from the nearest point.

We must live like misers and work like horses.

We must regard the smallest economy as of the most tremendous importance, no matter whether we are rich or poor.

We must save electricity.

We must spend our vacations at home.

We must get along without hired help except in case of absolute necessity or for the promotion of production.

We must put nothing saveable in the garbage barrel.

We must recover from garbage everything saveable put into it.

We must throw overboard all the dead weight of life so that the ship may not sink.

We must strip ourselves to the skin of everything which hampers our movements, so that we may win this fight.

This nation during the next year must become an athlete, abiding every luxury, living on the plainest food, eating nothing, drinking nothing, wearing nothing except that which will make for victory.

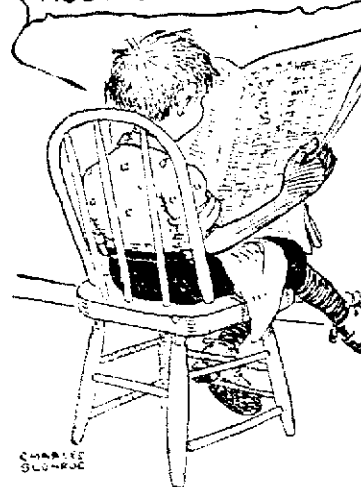

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON WATER WAGON

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try this:—Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

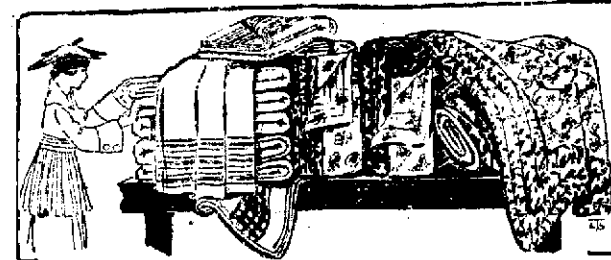

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanse, sweeten and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, and those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid are assured that one week of in-lie bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

Preparing Your Bedcovering Needs for the Cold Months Ahead Should Be Done at Once

vice and purchase during the next few days.

We hardly think it necessary to go into reasons, because every housewife has read about the enormous requirements of our Army for blankets, and the situation requires foresight and IMMEDIATE action. It is not a question of our getting more blankets, because prices would prohibit us from so doing. The blankets on our shelves were bought early last winter. So if you are going to pursue a policy of "safety first," take our advice and purchase during the next few days.

The Question of Blankets Is Gone Into Thoroughly in Today's Advertisement

"What are you going to do about blankets this year, Mrs. —?" is a remark heard every day. So why not ask yourself this question: WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT BLANKETS? You've read all about what manufacturers have had to say, about the apparent scarcity; so it will be good news for you to hear that this store has not been caught napping. We were determined that the term "shortage" would be heard very little here, and as a result are showing blankets in a range just as complete as in former years. However, all the reasons that pointed to early purchasing heretofore apply with equal or greater force this season. Because so great will be the demand of new customers who will turn to us that we doubt whether our supplies will meet all needs.

DRUNKEN NEGRO IS CAUGHT AFTER HE STABS PEACEMAKER

A cutting affray, which came mightily near resulting in a tragedy, occurred in the alley in the rear of the Windsor Hotel just shortly after the noon hour today.

Lewis Andrews, a drunken negro employed at the Harrison-Walker brick works, entered the kitchen at the Windsor and when ordered out became abusive. Mrs. Margaret Leonard, the cook, called to Edward Endress, who was passing up Third street on his way to dinner, to come in and take the man away. Mr. Endress went to the rescue and when he asked him what he was doing in there he replied "None of your business," and when ordered out quickly pulled a knife from his pocket and slashed Endress on the hand and across the ribs and also plunged the knife into his right groin.

The negro then started to run and the injured man after him. He caught him at the rear of Dufton's hardware store and swinging on the back of his neck knocked him down. He then proceeded to literally kick the head of him and was in a fair way to succeed when persons attracted to the scene interfered to save the slasher's life.

Officer Carlson was promptly on the scene and arrested the badly battered negro and placed him in the lock up.

Mr. Endress was taken to the office of Dr. Waterworth where his injuries were attended to. The knife thrust in the groin is his most serious injury, and he was taken to the Clearfield Hospital for further examination and treatment.

Overlooking no portion of their new voting rights, many women of Texas served as delegates to the recent county conventions in their state. The interest manifested by the women surprised the politicians.
